

what does a marine technician do?

Marine technicians service, maintain and repair inboard and outboard boat engines and drive systems and also install electrical and electronic equipment.

You will learn to:

- diagnose and repair inboard and outboard engines and components
- install marine engines, controls and instruments
- connect marine electronic systems and components.

